

Using your camera on your laptop

First you need to find the camera, you can do this by selecting Camera in the start menu or type camera  in the search bar and then hold the document up to the screen and take a photo.

You can then save it directly to your machine. If you need assistance with this please see screen shots below or get in contact with myself or one of my colleagues.

